DEDICATION

To Mrs. Mae Stanford, adviser during the senior year, and to Coach J. Russell Murphy, adviser in the sophomore and junior years, the January graduating class of nineteen hundred thirty-two dedicates this, the first issue of The Senior Voice.

CLASS HISTORY 1932

FOUR years ago the good ship "CLASS OF 1932" left her harbor to sail the seas of Education, bound for the port of Graduation.

Her youthful crew began their freshman year at John Simpson Junior high, where they were well represented in many organizations, with Dorothy Peat editor of the John Simpson Times; Ben Goodenough business manager of the Hi-Y division II; Edwin Balyeat president of that organization; and Janet Knott and Dorothy Peat, president and treasurer respectively of the Girl's Glee club.

Select Representative Students

At this time the ship took a vote to select ten representative students. Janet Knott, Dorothy Caldwell, Anne Zahniser, Jane Voegele and Dorothy Peat were the girls chosen; Bob Bright, Edwin Balyeat, Bob Fichter, Ben Goodenough and Deming Lowrey, the boys. Runners-up were Peg Black, Vangelene Cook and June Hale; Martin Wolf, Don Kirkpatrick and Ralph Matthews.

In January, 1929, with a crew of 169 the good ship sailed to the Mansfield Senior high.

Here a large number of its members were experienced enough to secure positions in the band and orchestra. Ben Goodenough served as band president during the first and third years here, and Jane Voegele was vice-president in the third year. Fred Sells and Eugene Linham were assistant directors, while Paul Flohr, Paul White and Bessie Yarnell represented the ship by playing in the band. Gordon Jelliff filled Bob DuPont's shoes by being drum major.

Participate in Athletics

One of the sailors, Bob Fichter, started his football career as Ed. Holmquist's understudy. The next year he was a regular, received one of the gold footballs given to the N. C. O. league champions and was given honorable mention in all league rating. Bob was elected captain for the 1931 season.

Another outstanding sailor was Frankie Fisch who also went out for the grid game in his sophomore year. Because of his accurate passing and generalship which have been instrumental in keeping Mansfield's slate clean, he is well judged one of the best quarter-backs in the state.

Deming Lowery proved an asset to the wrestling team; William Kimes was a valuable track man; and several others were out for tumbling.

Lofty Bill DuPont jumped on the quintet until he moved to Toledo in his junior year.

Hi-Y Backs Project

The members of the crew that belonged to the George Williams Senior Hi-Y backed an annual "Find Yourself" campaign, and the Armistice day program given by them in 1930 was an example of the type of work of which the members are capable. Ben Goodenough was president in the senior year, while Bob Fichter was vice-president and Martin Trauger, treasurer.

The vocally inclined members of the crew took part in three operettas. Harold Patton had a leading part in "The Mikado" in 1930. In that year Edwin Balyeat was treasurer of the Boys' Glee club. Dorothy Caldwell was president the first semester with Dortha Shaffer of the girls' organization. Betty Angle was president the second semester, Florence Nail, secretary, and Dorothy Peat, treasurer; Betty Angle was re-elected president in the spring semester of 1931.

Organize S. R. C.

In the spring of 1930 a new movement toward student government was started. Bob Fichter was one of the original committee to investigate the idea. He served as secretary of the S. R. C. in his third year, and Dorothy Peat as treasurer. The spring semester of 1931 Dorothy Caldwell was secretary; in the fall she was elected president. The last semester Ben Goodenough was vice-president; Florence Nail, secretary; and Edwin Balyeat, treasurer.

A number of the girls of the class have been active on Blue Tri committees. In 1930 Dorothy Peat was treasurer, and in 1931 Dorothy Caldwell served as president.

Athletically inclined girls of the group formed an enthusiastic part of the girls A. A.

Much along the lines of student aid and charity has been accomplished by the Social Science Service club of which Edwin Balyeat was treasurer in 1929, and Vangelene Cook, secretary in 1931.

Many of the crew were interested in Red Masque, of which in the senior year Vangelene Cook was president; Martin Trauger, vice-president; and Charles Spetka treasurer.

Both French and Latin clubs were formed to stimulate interest in those languages. Virginia Starkey was secretary of the latter in 1930, and Dorothy Caldwell and Barney Burns president and treasurer, respectively in 1931.

Dorothy Peat became associate editor of The Hyphonerian soon after her arrival in the senior high. She has been editor of the last two semesters. James

CLASS PROPHECY

Professor Don Aplin, who is now retired after 20 years of teaching, is writing books at his home. His latest is called "Some Cows Do Kick the Moon."

Now we find the professor and his secretary at work in his library.

Pro.—“Well, Mary, that's enough for to-day. I just can't make up my mind what to do with that cow. Let's do something else.”

Mary—“Professor, you really should get your mind on something else: wouldn't you like to look at your old Senior Voice? I just found it today. Let's look up your picture. (They hunt, finally find it) “Oh, Professor, how you have changed.”

(Bell is heard)

Mary—“It's Doctor Bartholomew.”

Pro.—“Well, well, Doctor, so glad to see you. Haven't seen you since you came back from Mars. How was the planet, Doctor?”

Dr.—“The incontrovertibility of the atmosphere is tumultuous on your lungs. As I sit here scenographically the propinquity of the place overwhelms me, sir.” (Suddenly sees book) “But what, sir, is that you are reading?”

Pro.—“That, Doctor, is our 1932 Senior Voice from high school. Let's look up your picture.”

Dr.—“The opportuneness of the time is requisitely susceptible. By Jove, I have changed remarkably. Mary, look, do you remember him?”

Pro.—“If it isn't Bob Isaly. That's the Robert Isaly who invented this synthetic ice cream.”

Mary—“I've tasted it, and it is all right to smell.”

Pro.—“Look, here are the schoolboy pictures of our famous explorers. Harold Patton, Gordon Ford, and Eugene Linham, who have gone in their new craft “The Cob-Web” to Saturn. I heard they got mixed up in those rings, but I don't know.”

Dr.—“I wonder what became of these two, Virginia Starkey and Florence Nail?”

Mary—“Why, I saw something in the paper yesterday. Wait, I will look—yes, Miss Starkey and Miss Nail have gone on a coast-to-coast lecturing tour for the W. C. T. U. They—”

Pro.—“Doctor, wouldn't it be great to see the old class again? I suppose we could get them all together again?”

Dr.—“It certainly would be lascivious. Do you suppose we could find everybody after all these years?”

Pro.—“Sure, we will get some detectives, and we will have this book. We will have a party New Year's Eve for all those whom we can find.”

Dr.—“I have a new copy of ‘Who's Who.’ I believe I remember someone. It is in my Hapazoid; I will go and get it.” (Exit Doctor)

Mary — (picking up book) “Here is a picture of June Culp, she had red hair, you know. She is telling children's stories at the ‘Little Cat Library.’”

(Enter the Doctor)

Dr.—“Here it is, the bumblesome thing, let's look it over.”

Mary—“Well, let us start at the beginning—the editors. Why, Doctor, look who is here!”

Pro.—“Why, why, what do you know about that? Look Doc! Co-editors, Dick Tappan and Fred Sells; imagine! you never can tell what people will turn out to be.” (looks down list) “Why here, cub reporter, Dorothy Peat. Well, well.”

Dr.—“Let us look further

(they leaf through) inventors, here, what do you think of this? Joe Ellison, inventor of a machine which enables a teacher to tell without doubt whether a pupil has spent at least five minutes on a given subject.”

Pro.—“Here is the poetry section. Well, if it isn't my old friend—Bill Kimes. He has been awarded this year's prize for poetry written in blank verse.”

Mary—“I'll start looking up their addresses — I know where two of the class are. Frederick Haag is manager of the ‘Little Tots’ Shoppe downtown, and Ann Zahniser is modeling.”

Pro.—“People! I have a great idea, we have to have some help in order to get everybody together; why not put some detectives on the job to help find some of them? We know where a few of them are, but that isn't a start. Let's look up some detective agency.” (picks up telephone book) “Here, ‘Culler Catch 'em Bureau’: that sounds good — something familiar about that name, though, Culler. Well, I am going to call.” (calls). “Is this the ‘Culler Catch 'em Bureau’? — pardon, is your first name Karl? Well, well, just the man we want to see. I want to hire you to look up everybody in our old graduating class of '32. Come up and I will give you the list of names we got from the class book. O. K.?”

ACT II

CLASS SYMBOLS

A Characteristic of the January, 1932, graduating class was to be different, and in keeping with this trait they chose the chrysanthemum as their class flower. The mighty "mum" truly symbolizes the vigor of this class. The flowers in yellow and lavender were in striking evidence and added much to the attractiveness of the decorations at the class party. The committee making the selection was Mary Jones, chairman, Lillian Eller, Mary Balliett, John Harrison and Charles Spetka.

Choose Lavender and Yellow

After the momentous question of the class flower had been settled it was comparatively easy to choose the class colors. What would be more appropriate than lavender and yellow? These colors not only harmonize with the flower but worked in excellently as a color combination for the monograms on the commencement invitations. Franklin Schroff, Ruth Cox and Laurene Burgener chose these colors.

Ring Design Individual
Pins and rings for both the January and June classes feature a new and distinctly individual design. The ring depicts the M. S. H. S. building on one side and a blockhouse, representing Mansfield's early history, on the other. This style is representative of Mansfield exclusively and may be used as the permanent symbol of the school.

A silver plaque on which this design is emblazoned has been presented to the school by the January class.

Members of the pin and ring committee were Edwin Balyeat, chairman, Dorothy Caldwell, Mahlon Judy, Don Price, Don Howe and Helen Webster.

CLASS SONG

1st verse:

Good-bye to you, dear Mansfield High,
The High School of our happiest days;
Memories of life while here
Will brighten future days.

2nd verse:

We're glad that we have reached the top,
And now there's something we want to cry;
So as we're leaving, once again
Three Cheers For Mansfield High!

Chorus:

The world is calling to us;
It's taking us away,
But always Mansfield High School
Will be as it is today.
No, we will not forget you,
And you'll remember too—
For though we say Adieu to you,
Our hearts remain with you.

Composed by Ethele Cole.

CLASS POEM

The time is short, the end in view
For M. H. S. class '32.
The time seemed long when first we came
Into this stately hall of fame;
But though our high school days are o'er
We hope in greater heights to soar.

Our hopes were high, our aim was true
For M. H. S. class '32.
But if we've stumbled by the way
"They did their best," we hope they'll say.
We cannot all aspire to fame
For, after all, what's in a name!
The past is dead, the future new
For M. H. S. class '32.

And may our dear old rousing cheer
Still lead us on with clarion clear.
To win the great and glorious game
Of Life, and deem it just the same.

And now Good-bye, we bid Adieu,
This M. H. S. class '32.
Let those who follow take our place,
Our banners carry in the race.
For though we wander far and wide
Our memories with you will abide.

Helene DeWitt, '32.

WILL OF JANUARY '32

WE, the January class of '32 of the Senior High School, City of Mansfield, County of Richland, and State of Ohio, being of full age and sound mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this to be our LAST WILL and TESTAMENT, hereby revoking and annulling any and all WILL or WILLS by us heretofore made.

ITEM 1. We direct that all our just debts and over due accounts be paid out of our estate as soon as practicable after our graduation.

ITEM 2. We Will:

1. Atta Brinkerhoff's chatter to Charles McMullen.

2. Eddie Balyeat's weakness for "Dots" to Inwood Smith.

3. Marianne Boebel's fluency in German to Barbara Keene.

4. Dick Tappan's swiftness and speed to Jim Biddle.

5. Donna Enlow's and Ann Sirbeck's Shelby friends to Phyllis Parkinson and Edith Weigel. (Shelby is a bit closer than Galion).

6. Gordon Jelliff's ample altitude to Glenn Schruff.

7. Lillian Berry's walking ability to Harriett Switzer.

8. Ethele Cole's excess avoirdupois to Mary Jo Johnston.

Frederick Haag's piano playing to Jack Peeler.

10. Laurene Burgener's interest in Bellville to David Kohler.

11. Jim Skelly's celerity in getting out of school to George Kaler. (Not that he needs it).

12. Florence Nail's method of attack to Pat Kramer.

13. Deming Lowrey's beautiful curly hair to George Mehl.

14. Bill Hauserman's graceful acknowledgement of defeat to all who are disappointed in love.

15. Lillian Eller's interest in grocery stores to Peg Bruce.

16. Ruth Cox's skill in art to Bob Sheldon.

17. Dean Miller's 240 pounds to Bob Nye.

18. John Harrison's bashfulness around women to Bud Sturges.

19. Jane Voegele's weakness for notoriety to Marie Hoover.

20. Bob Brolier's letter writing to anyone who will write letters to Massachusetts.

21. Bud Fighter's empty bottles of peroxide to Betty Hout.

22. Bob Beidel's soda-jerking job to Frederick Wolf.

23. Bob Isaly's "Black Hawk" to any fellow who needs influence with the weaker sex.

Betty Angle's self-dignity to Katie Herbrand.

25. Earl Boals' cars to John Carew.

26. Mary Katherine Balliet's make-up to Jane Bacon.

27. Barney Burns' manly chest to Leroy Fredericks.

28. Frank Fisch's popularity with the fairer sex to Jim Wallace.

29. Dorothy Caldwell's box of "Johnson's Baby Powder" to Miriam Bean.

30. Virginia Starkey's walk to Betty Jane Snyder.

31. Martin Trauger's pull with Miss Waring to all the poor English literature students.

32. Mary Garver's ability to start scandal to Betty Hanson.

33. The excess conceit of Elizabeth Weinert to Bob Selby, although he certainly does not need it.

34. The motherly affections of Vangelene Cook to Betty Rensch.

35. Carl Culler's grace and poise to Perry Cook.

36. Florence Mattox leaves her "having loved and lost" experiences to those who haven't "lost" yet.

37. Dorothy Peat's ability to surrender gracefully to Louise Fitger.

38. That straight nose of Benton Henry Goodenough's to Gene Sweeterman.

39. Margaret Boyden's little feet to Bob Boughten.

40. "Judy" to one of the future classes.

41. Erma Frances Grandstaff's "winter woolens" to Bee Kochenderfer.

42. Paul Flohr's claim on Edna Wigton to Raymond Dent.

43. The splendid team work of Bob Fichter and Ann Zahniser to Don Price and Helen Webster.

ITEM 3. We nominate and appoint J. RUSSELL MURPHY, Executor of this, our Last Will and Testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We, the Committee, have hereunto set our hands to this, our Last Will and Testament this twenty-ninth day of January, in the year of our Lord, 1932.

Paul Flohr
Frank Fisch
Dortha Shaffer

Organize Senior Voice

When The Senior Voice staff was organized in the fall of 1931, Dorothy Peat, Virginia Starkey, Florence Nail, Gordon Jelliff, Ben Goodenough and Edwin Balyeat served on the executive committee.

In April 1930 a collegiate party was held for the crew for which Edwin Balyeat was general chairman.

February 27, 1931, as 12B's, the group sponsored the Bucyrus Hop after the Bucyrus-Mansfield basket ball game. Ben Goodenough was general chairman, aided by Margaret Davidson, Mahlon Judy, June Hale, Dick Cairns and Bob Fichter.

In the spring of 1931 a picnic was held at Fleming's Falls under the leadership of Virginia Starkey.

On December 5, 1931, the cafeteria of the ship was decorated with pine boughs and the class colors for the senior dinner-dance for which Walter Fensch's Ambassadors provided music.

"Hurry! Hurry! Hurry!" . "Hurry! Hurry! Hurry!", chosen as the senior play, was produced in the auditorium November 20. Members of the crew taking part were Anne Zahniser, Ben Goodenough, Carl Culler, Martin Trauger, Vangelene Cook, Mary Fighter, Ralph Keil and June Hale.

Although this boat, "CLASS OF 1932," has been fortunate in that there were no deaths, many members have been lost to other schools. Among them are Bob Bright, Bill DuPont, Ralph Matthews, Martin Wolf, Gwendolyn Jenkins, Janet Knott and Margaret Black.

So the cruise of four years in high school is ended, and the ship has safely reached the port of Graduation with a crew of 110 remaining. The ship is now ready to start out on the stormy sea of life with four years' high school experiences to guide the helm.

Mary—"I hope they can come for the party. Look what I found in to-night's society column. Mary Jones and Paul White were united in marriage today in a very beautiful ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert Small."

TUMBLING

Margaret Boyden, Ruth Cox, Margaret Davidson, Louise Davidson and Bertha Sauder were the first members of the class to take part in a tumbling contest, placing second in their initial attempt. In the junior year the tumbling squad was divided into two teams, with team No. 1 winning the meet. Margaret and Louise Davidson and Emma Yarmon from this class were on the victorious team.

SWIMMING

Both in the junior and senior years members of the graduating class entered the inter-class swimming meet. The first year members of the squad were Vangelene Cook, Helene DeWitt and Virginia Chew. Virginia Starkey and Margaret Davidson were added in the senior year when Virginia Chew was manager. The class placed third in the meet during their junior year.

BASEBALL

During this class's sophomore year the baseball tournament was a champion nit-wit contest. The final game was held between this class and the 11B's. The score at the end of the game was 14 to 9, in favor of the graduating class. Members of this victorious team were Treva Brown, Emma Yarmon, Bertha Sauder, Marie Moser, Donna Enlow and Ann Sirbeck. In the junior year a larger group was entered. This included Vangelene Cook, Helene DeWitt, June Culp and Louise Davidson. That year they were not as successful as formerly.

Congratulations to the Graduating Class

In our recognition of this important event in the lives of all those graduating from the Mansfield Senior High School, our heartiest congratulations are extended.

You are proceeding from this attained goal of accomplishment into a new and larger sphere of activity. Some have definite objectives and will pursue things they like to do.

Success depends upon a wise decision — be sure you like to do those things — that they are constructively sound — that they represent a value to industry and society — then do them with enthusiasm.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

HURRY! Hurry! Hurry!" a modern comedy in three acts, by Leroy Arnold, was presented November 20, 1931, by members of the senior class under the direction of Miss Emma Waring. The cast of the performance included Ralph Keil and Vangeline Cook in the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Hooker; Ann Zahniser in the part of Floy Hooker; and Martin Trauger as Steve Hooker. Karl Culler took the part of Ted Stone, a great football hero, and Ben Goodenough played Jack Crandall. Mary Fighter portrayed the part of Letitia Brown. Paul Flohr the part of Professor Alosius Bartholomew, and June Hale, Rita the maid.

Virginia Chew was prompter for the production; Virginia Starkey in charge of costumes; Dorothy Caldwell, properties; Atta Brinkerhoff and Audrey Cunningham, programs. The ticket committee included Harold Patton, Ruth Cox, Betty McQuillen and Dean Miller. Robert Brolier, Margaret Davidson. Robert Small, Louise Roderick, Richard Tappan and Robert Beidel served on the advertising committee. Frank Fisch was chairman of the house committee, and the stage committee consisted of Martin Trauger, Charles Spetka and John Harrison.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of J. Merton Holcombe.

IN the junior year the most outstanding event for the class was the collegiate party held in the cafeteria at the time that Coach J. Russell Murphy was class adviser.

Appropriate contests were sponsored, and prizes were awarded to the most collegiate boy and girl present as well as to the girl whose feet were best fitted by the shoes presented by a local concern.

The cafeteria was decorated with balloons, red and white streamers, palms, and pennants of many high schools and universities.

short end of a 81-82 score over Sandusky. In cross country the team that has the smallest score wins, so this meant another district championship for the local runners. For two years this class has been represented on this team by Hubert Schlemmer and Mike Mihalick. These two fellows have been the Mutt and Jeff of the team. Schlemmer is over six feet tall, while Mike isn't much over five. However, even with their difference in size, they always run quite close together and are always among the first. Last year they helped the team to finish fifth in the state meet, while this year they finished sixth down at Columbus.

TWO of the outstanding members of the football team are in the graduating class and will be missed when they are gone. These two are center and Captain Bob Fichter and quarter back Frank Fisch.

Neither of these fellows has ever been on a defeated team. Mansfield started her clear slate in 1929, the year that Bob and Frank started football. As a freshman Bob had the keenest sort of competition for his job at center. Eddie Holmquist, for two years all league center, was holding down the position, and although Bob didn't quite make him loose it, he gave him a tough fight. In 1930, however, Bob started every game but one as center. This exception was the Shelby game and Bob was nursing a bad knee. But even this didn't keep him out altogether, and he was put in at the half and stayed there the rest of the game. In the same year, he was chosen all league center and elected captain.

We all remember that when we were kids our great ambition was to call signals for the team. One fellow in Mansfield realizes this ambition every year, and for the last two years Frank Fisch has been the fellow. Fisch has started every game since the Danville game of 1930, and hasn't been off the field more than three or four quarters in two years. Remember this, Mansfield has won twenty-five games without a defeat, and Frank has called signals in at least fifteen of these games.

Don't forget the fellows in this class who have been out for football but failed to make the team or get their letter. Without them the varsity wouldn't have a thing to practice on and run through. They do as much toward making an undefeated team possible as anyone and get a lot more bruises and less praise.

Mansfield has one of the best track teams of the state, and the relays held here every spring are rated with the best in the country and attract teams from all over Ohio.

BASKETBALL

ONCE more Fisch and Fischer enter the game. Both boys played on the basketball team in 1930. Not given much of a chance to do anything, the team was runner up in the N. C. O. league, and reached the semi-finals in the district tournament, losing by one point to Shelby.

Just before the game ended, Coach Murphy put Bob in at guard. The next minute the game ended with the score tied. In the first overtime Shelby made two points and continued to hold that lead until but ten seconds remained to play. Then someone passed Bob the ball as he was standing in the middle of the floor, and just as the gun cracked, he let fly, and the ball passed through without touching the rim. At the start of the second overtime Bob was fouled and standing calmly before the yelling mob made the point. All in vain it proved to be because Shelby made another basket and won.

History of the Senior Voice

IN September, 1931, a number of reasons for discontinuing "The Manhigan" were compiled by the faculty.

At Mr. Jesse Beer's instigation a few 12A students were called together to formulate and discuss a plan which would do away with the annual, but which would at the same time initiate something to take its place.

The result of that first discussion, and many following it, is this first edition of The Senior Voice, a magazine to be published in January and June, which is proposed as a senior project, to embody their class accomplishments throughout high school — a truly senior publication as no previous book has been.

An executive committee, composed of Edwin Balyeat, Dorothy Peat, Virginia Starkley, Florence Nail, Ben Goodenough and Gordon Jelliff, members of the class of January, 1932, and Donald Price and Albert Voegele of the June class of the same year, organized the book, naming committees of capable seniors to aid them.

Also a faculty advisory board, including Miss Bertha Patterson, Miss Doris Garver, Miss Margaret Gaver, Mr. George Sherman, and Mr. H. B. Scoles was selected at this time.

In November a school-wide name contest was sponsored. The title, "Senior Voice," submitted by Robert Wolford, 11B, received the greatest number of votes from the five finally presented to the student body, and which had previously been selected by the executive committee and the faculty advisory board from more than 300 suggestions entered in the contest.

The other names presented to the school for votes were: Vox Seniorum, entered by Mrs. Ella Chase; M. H. S. Senior Book, by William McClurg; The Senior, by Mary Jones; and The Senual, by Mildred Finney.

At about the same time a contract for printing was signed with The Buckeye Press, Inc., of Mansfield, while Jahn & Ollier, of Toledo, contracted for the engraving. Senior photographs were taken by the Kraft studios.

Under the direction of Don Aplin, a subscription drive was held starting the first week of September.

The local merchants, interested in the new kind of advertising used in The Senior Voice, a modern type which connects the merchant's product directly with the student's needs, gave their support to the proposition.

So, through the co-operation of the students, faculty, merchants, printers and engravers, this first edition of The Senior Voice has been published.

When thou goest forth into the world what hopest thou to do. Algernon?

I know not, Percival, but upon one thing I am determined.

And what mightest that be?

Friend, I have resolved always to buy
